✓ Plan Your Business

Create a business plan for your daycare.

The business plan is a written, viable plan of action to guide your success.

Economic Development Partnership of North Carolina has great resources to help with your business plan.

Determine your business legal structure.

Before selecting a business structure, consult your attorney and/or accountant as each structure carries with it unique legal and tax consequences.

Register your business.

Your business must be registered. It's a good idea to perform a name search online or in office to determine if the proposed business name has already been filed. If you've organized as an LLC register with the N.C. Secretary of State. Corporations also register with North Carolina as well.

If you're organized as a sole proprietorship or general partnership, file with the Durham County Register of Deeds and pay the $26 file fee.

Apply for an Employer Identification Number (EIN) from the IRS.

Also known as a Federal Tax ID Number, you'll need an EIN if you will be hiring employees, forming a partnership, or corporation. Read more about EINs and apply online for yours with the IRS.

Sign up for a State Tax ID.

To collect sales and use taxes, you'll need to register the N.C. Department of Revenue. You will receive information from the Department of Revenue on sales and use tax reporting and remittance requirements.

Learn about financial resources available.

Small business owners in North Carolina have financial resources available at the federal level and right here in North Carolina.

Plan Your Location

Find a location zoned for your daycare.

The Unified Development Ordinance \(UDO\) designates zoning of properties in Durham. Daycare Facilities are allowed in specific zoning districts, but not in others. See the UDO Use Table. Scroll down to the “Use Category” row for the general “Public and Civil Use Categories,” and find “Day Care,” and then “Daycare Facilities,” following the row to find the allowed zoning district codes. Then, use the Zoning Atlas to find properties with the zoning you need.

Confirm zoning for the location you want.

Send a Business Zoning Verification Form to the City of Durham/Durham County Planning Department. You can also visit the Development Services Center at Durham City Hall.

Demonstrate that your daycare business meets specific local, state, and federal regulations.

Regulations for daycare facilities extend beyond the usual building codes and UDO requirements. In addition to health and fire codes, there are engineering and transportation regulations as well. Depending on how involved the development process is for your potential daycare site, you may be required to submit site specific design documents such as site plans. Note that in the column boxes having headings for Residential Districts, there are the characters “L/m”. The “L” means that the a “Limited Use Standard for a Daycare use must be met (over in the Right-hand column — found under UDO Section 5.3.3E). The “m” indicates that a minor special use permit is required for locating a Daycare Facility in a Residential District. For special use permits, see the “Process Overview” section of Durham’s Board of Adjustment. For building plans and permits, visit City of Durham’s Inspections Application page. For construction drawings, the City’s permitting review and approval process page is useful.

Choose your design professionals.

Depending on the type of construction, you may need to hire a licensed professional. Contact City of Durham/Durham County Planning Department to determine if you will need to do so.

Check if your location will require historic review.

Some locations and buildings need to have renovations reviewed by the Historic Preservation Commission \(HPC\).

Complete and sign your lease.

To avoid common pitfalls, it is best to review the lease with your attorney.

Develop Your Space

Learn about the city's development review process.

Development Review Section of the Durham City-County Planning Department reviews plans and serves as case managers for projects. It's also good to have an idea of what the City-County timelines look like for review.

Determine the types of applications needed.

If you have a specific site in mind for your Daycare, you will want to confirm that the Daycare is permitted in the property's zoning. You will want to get a Business Verification Letter.

Obtain a building permit.

Have your general contractor start the building permit process with City/County inspections. Your general contractor can expedite the plan review process by submitting plan documents digitally.

Monitor your progress.

Stay current with the progress of your building plan review status, permits, and Certificates of Compliance online.

Apply for a sign permit.

Prior to installation, a sign permit must be issued per Unified Development Ordinance \(UDO\). Both permanent and temporary signs require permits.

Contact the fire department.

To ensure your building meets the N.C. Fire Code, you should contact the Durham Fire Department. Note: A Change of Use will require a full inspection.
